

The Orange and Black

A Hanover Tradition

Volume 84, Edition 5

Hanover High School, Hanover, Pennsylvania

Senior Farewell Edition 2011

Inside This Issue...
50 Years of Drama	2
In The News	5
Oratorical	6
Formal Dinner 2011	8
Honor Society Inductions	10
Grease is The Word	12
HHS Out & About	14
Spring Sports	16
Class of 2011
Wills & Testaments	20
Senior Intentions	23
The Royal Wedding	26
Sophomores Break Record	28
Student Appreciation Day & Talent Show	30

Featured Staff
 Chief Editor
 Casey Louthian

Co editor
 Matt Kline

Nathan Arndt
 Sarah Easley
 Haley Frederick
 Christian Torres
 Pete Yingst

Advisor:
 Mrs. Paula Frank

Letter From The Editor: Senior Farewell Edition

By Casey Louthian

Our footprints will fade as the tides change but, the memories of leaving them will last forever.

Looking back, it is absolutely mind-boggling to think about how quickly this year has flown by, let alone the last twelve. In theory, twelve years seems like a long time to spend in school, but its crazy short once you live it. What's even more mind-boggling is just how much life itself has taught me in these incredible eighteen years. For my final Letter From The Editor, I'd like to share some of those life lessons with you.

"I have plenty of time," is the biggest five-word, seventeen-letter lie you will ever utter in your entire existence on planet earth. Time is such a funny thing; it speeds right on by when you'd give just about anything to make it stand still, and it stands still when you'd give just about anything to make it speed by. Regardless of if you want it to pass quickly or slowly, always remember to treasure it. Four years (hopefully four years) will be all you get, so live them up and make as many memories as you possibly can. After high school, you may not see certain people ever again (which may be a good or bad thing, depending on your situation) so have fun while you can, because it really doesn't last long.

High school is about so much more than grades, homework, and earning that diploma. Sure, a diploma may say that you managed to sit through twelve years of schooling, nail a 4.0 GPA, and maybe you even graduated as the Valedictorian or Salutatorian of your class; but what a diploma doesn't say is that you yelled the loudest at the basketball games, you were the one who went all-out for Spirit Days, and you were the one who sparkled as the star of the fall play or spring musical. You may flaunt your robes at graduation, celebrating the "school" part, but don't completely disregard the "high." Get out there, get involved, make a name for yourself, and make these four years count; maybe even discover who you really are.

That's what these four years of high school were all about for me- self-discovery. I started out high school as this shy- painfully, painfully- shy, quiet, mousy little girl who was terrified of starting out at a place that was so new and so different from what I had become accustomed to. During my freshman year, I really didn't know where I belonged, so I just stuck to my comfort zone and stayed glued to the people I already knew. I didn't branch out, I didn't try to do anything new or different, I just stayed put as I was. Essentially, I was invisible. Don't make that mistake. Go ahead branch out, try new things, meet new people, don't be scared. Sure, it can be scary, but by doing those things, you'll learn more about the people you go to school with, and maybe even learn more about yourself. You may find a new interest, or discover a potential career path you want to follow.

Sophomore year was when things really started happening for me; that was when I made the choice to join the newspaper staff and take on the Journalism class. I couldn't be the shy, quiet, mousy little sophomore girl in a classroom full of seniors; I had to speak if I wanted to be heard. I had to suck it up- so to speak- and get over my shyness once and for all. That proved to be the best thing for me- I joined in something I had a genuine love and passion for- and still do, met people who shared that love and passion, and learned that branching out really isn't as terrifying as what I had been anticipating. They accepted me, and I sort of gained a status here at HHS- writer girl. Okay, so it wasn't the most awe-inspiring nickname, but at least I wasn't the wallflower anymore.

I was starting to make connections and meet new people. People were starting to recognize who I was, as I was the only sophomore on a primarily-senior newspaper staff. That was when I learned that it's okay to stick out at what you're good at; it's okay to showcase your talents. For me, that meant sticking with the paper and eventually being offered the job of Editor of The Orange and Black- something I had wanted since I joined the staff.

(Continued on page 4)

50 Years of Drama

By Matt Kline

Drama Night celebrated its fiftieth year anniversary on May 6 at Hanover High School. In 1961, when grades 10, 11, and 12 were in the Eichelberger building, this tradition began when the three classes did the “tri-class plays”, which really wasn't a competition. When they moved into this building in 1965 and had four grades, it most likely morphed into what we now know as Drama Night. From 1961 up until 1999, Columbia Jewelers sponsored the awards and trophies; when they went out of business, Garrick Jewelers took over as sponsor of the awards.

The freshman, sophomores, and seniors proudly presented their plays. The freshmen performed Conflict, Sophomores did Harry Potter Parody!, and Seniors played out Our American Zombie. Best cameos went to Kendra Swartz, Rachel Kelly, Steven Perdue, and Sam Walton. Best actors runner-up were Cullen Rosenbrien and Lily Tran. Best actors were Jaide Finfrock and Logan Hamm. Best directors were Lindsey Bowersox and Tyler Hahn, and the Sophomores won best play. Congratulations to all on a great night!

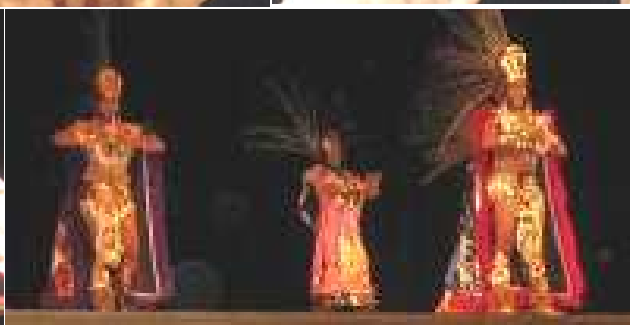

(Continued from page 1)

Follow your heart, no matter what your love is. It doesn't matter if its singing, dancing, soccer, baseball, volleyball, track, writing, swimming, or photography- go ahead and shine. Don't be remembered as simply Jane Smith, be remembered as Jane Smith- the girl who led the soccer team to their first championship in X amount of years. If you've got the passion and the drive, you can do anything you set your mind to, anything you have your heart in. Go ahead and take a risk, because you never know just how perfect something could turn out to be.

Becoming Editor and making connections gave me the confidence I needed to branch out even more and become more involved. For me, that meant joining my dad's church, getting a job at TJ Maxx, becoming a Link Crew Leader, becoming second-in-command to The Orange and Black staff as well as the club, and even being inducted into Honor Society this year, among so many other things. Because I got over my shyness and embraced who I am as a person, I won't be remembered as just "Casey Louthian: that really, really shy girl." I've made memories- some great, some good, some not so great or good, and others that I want to forget completely- but I'll have things to look back on as I reminisce about high school. That's what the point of high school was for me- making memories to last a lifetime.

Above all else, do what makes you happy. Regardless of what others think or say, you need to follow your heart and what you know is right for you. Be yourself, because in just four short years, whatever drama and negativity happened in high school won't matter. Live it up and rock out, because you will be remembered as one of the unique individuals that make up your class. I can honestly say that I love my class, and I wouldn't trade any of us for anything. Happy graduation, and best of luck in the future, guys! See you at our first reunion! ;-)

C
I
N
C
O
D
E
M
A
Y
O

In The News...

By Christian Torres

April 27 – A series of tornadoes ravage Missouri, Alabama, Georgia, and South Carolina. Many were left homeless, and some, without their loved ones. The death toll reached about 340.

May 8– The Mississippi River crested and rushed downstream toward Louisiana due to storms. Neighborhoods of Memphis, Tennessee are submerged and many communities along the river are being evacuated due to record flooding.

April 29- The last shuttle launch of Endeavour was scheduled on this date, though complications with technical equipment delayed the launch until May 16. What will NASA use after the last shuttle launch? Dr. Longsdon, a member of the NASA Advisory Council Exploration Committee, talks about using a space taxi that will be a capsule that will only transport about 6-7 crew members to the space station.

May 16– Endeavor launches and on May 18 docks on the International Space Station

April 29- Prince William and Catherine Middleton tie the knot at Westminster Abbey in England. The newlywed royal couple went to the Buckingham Palace afterwards. They headed out into the balcony, in front of thousands of spectators and kissed. This is something Princess Diana and Prince Charles had also done at their royal wedding in July 1981.

May 1- Osama bin Laden is killed by thirty to forty U.S Navy SEAL operatives at a compound in Abbottabad, Pakistan. The operation was completed in less than forty minutes; though most of the time was spent scavenging for vital information or leads about Al Qaeda plans.

April & May- Fall out of Governor Tom Corbitt's proposed budget cuts in Pennsylvania schools takes toll on all public schools and state related universities. The budget allows for school choice vouchers and asking districts to negotiate with teachers to accept pay freezes. Many schools, including Hanover, are furloughing and/or demoting teachers to help with the budget crisis. Some districts are having to consider cuts to art, music, driver's education, physical education and colleges are looking at raising tuitions. Penn State officials said that the cuts are "devastating" and would mean "catastrophic change for students and the state."

Forty-Sixth Annual Oratorical Contest

The eight seniors gave their orations on varied topics on May 12 in the HHS auditorium to a student assembly and families of the orators. Pete Yingst, Wes Reichart, and Jaide Finfrock won the popular vote by their classmates.

Organized and advised by Mrs. Erin Smith, HHS Speech and English teacher, this competition is unique in the Hanover area and has been a tradition for 46 years. The sponsor of this year's competition is Garrick Jewelers of Hanover. The winner and runner-up receive a gift.

The judges this year were Mr. Jeremy Flores, Mr. Fletcher Hiigel, and Mrs. Stevie Little. Their decisions of the winners will be announced at Campus Night on June 1.

This year's speakers and topics were (in alphabetical order):

Jaide Finfrock– Don't Forget Your Vaseline, My Pageant Pretties: The Negative Effects of Beauty Pageants on Children

Wes Reichart– Protecting The Second Amendment

Sarah Smith– The Legalization of Marijuana: Stopping By To Say High

Tori Spangler– Child Beauty Pageants: A Lost Innocence

Loganne Storm– What's On Your Plate?

Ashlee Yealy– Standardized Education or Well-Rounded Students?

Pete Yingst– Misinformation and Manipulation: Two of The Biggest Threats to America

Cris Zink– PEDs in Sports: How They Kill The Integrity of The Game and The Health of its Athletes

Mrs. Kennedy's Foods II class enjoyed their Formal Dinner on Thursday, April 14th 2011

National Honor Society & National Art Honor Society

On Friday April 29, 2011, seven seniors and thirteen juniors were inducted into the Eichelberger Chapter of The National Honor Society. NHS honors those students who have demonstrated excellence in the areas of Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Character.

The seven seniors that were inducted were Amanda Albright, Kendall Dubs, Tyler Kiick, Casey Louthian, Andrew Merrel, Samuel Walton, and Brooke Yingling; the thirteen juniors that were inducted were Danielle Benner, Rebekah Cartwright, Courtney Cleary, Paige Fuhrman, Alexis Herrick, Mark Hoffman, Tyler Krout, Logan Myers, Allison Seibel, Kyle Sheely, Eden Walker, Lakeisha Williams, and Katarina Winhauer. Congratulations to all!

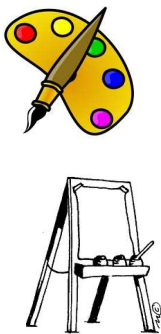

Similar to the National Honor Society is the National Art Honor Society, and thirty three students were inducted on April 29, 2011. Two seniors– Anne-Marie Pope and Ashlee Yealy; seven juniors– Juan Fajardo, Carly Forbes, Krishna Gajera, Stephanie Koblitz, Logan Myers, Abbey Rhodes, and Victoria Temple; ten sophomores- Linsey Bowersox, Zoie Cleary, Josie Diaz, Caleb Gerlach, Taylor Hahn, Mackenzie Naill, Rigoberto Ramirez, Kyra Shaffer, Lily Tran, and Morgan Yealy; and fourteen freshmen– Victoria Ahn, Landon Becker, Ian Brown, Becky Cook, Rachel Cosgrove, Haley Frederick, Annie Henry, Rachel Kelly, Hunter Markle, Maddie Royston, Courtney Sandner, Megan Senft, Maddie Werner, and Alex Wertz. Congratulations to all!

Winners of The Popular Vote for the 2011 Art Show. From left to right: Annie Pope, Ashlee Yealy, & Courtney Carbaugh.

The Winner of The 2011 Art Show: Asael Perez

Grease is the Word!

By Matt Kline

The Hanover High School theater department came together this spring under the direction of Rene Staub and his assistant and wife Jessica, to put on the musical Grease on April 8, 9, and 10. The musical broke school records such as having the most presold tickets and selling out the show Friday night, and actually having to turn people away.

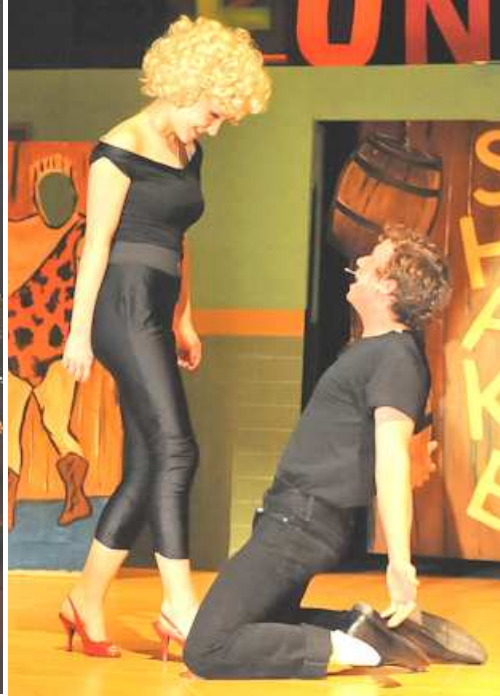

The three nights the show was performed, the auditorium was either filled or close to being filled. The audience laughed and even sang along with songs. The stage was flooded with lights, props, fog machines, and even a wooden car with lights and all. Mrs. Deb Smith was the music director, Nikki Bull choreographed the show, and Lori Baker designed and made costumes. Dave Markle was the tech director, and Sara Smith was the lighting designer and supervisor. The pit band consisted of Mike Chase, Tommy Link, Charlie Beard, Deb Smith, and Greg Tine.

There's no doubt that this show was well done, and brought in over 2,000 people to see the play performed. With the sponsorships, donations, and tickets sales, this show has certainly out done itself.

Thanks to Hanover Studios for the pictures!

14

2
0
1
1

HHS OUT & ABOUT

15

Spring Sports 2011

Girls' Softball: Hawkettes and Coach Moose Finish Strong By Sarah Easley

The Hawkette Softball team, coached by Jeff Moose, is ranked 5th in District III as of May 9. Their season has been quite a roller coaster but they pulled through and ended up being undefeated. The Hawkettes accomplished their goal of earning back their title as Division IV Champions.

Their last home game was on May 5. Not only did they celebrate senior's Terra Diehl, Brooke Yingling, and Dana Roub's last home game, but Coach Moose's as well. The game was played against Biglerville and they pulled out yet another win.

Two tournaments have been played this season to earn more points towards Districts. At the last tournament they played, the Hawkettes nearly beat New Oxford's varsity team with an end score of 6-4. New Oxford Softball is in the number one spot of Division I.

The last division game was held at Delone's home field on May 10. Hawkettes won 5-4 making their division record 10-0. Their division record overall was 13-3 and 14-6 which includes every game played including tournaments. District games begin May 26 and the Hawkettes need to win 2 games to qualify for states. Good luck Hawkettes!

---

Boys' Tennis By Nathan Arndt

Boys' Tennis finished out its schedule of matches not too long ago, counties and districts having come and gone as competition continues. The tennis team is coached by Pete Truesdale, a hands-on coach who likes to give advice on how to better the players. The team managers were Rebekah Cartwright and Laney Jenkins. They turned out to end their season with a record of eight wins and six losses. Even though Hanover is out of it all together, they've got next season coming around.

The tennis team this year comprised of about 16 players, diminishing a few over the course of the season. The rankings are set up on a ladder system, players doing challenge matches to try and keep their rank, or advance one up. Varsity matches, the matches that counted for most (depending on if the match count turned out different based on other school's preference) consist of the top five players on the team. These players were Alex Daubert, Joel Garrett, Steven Osladil, Vance Jenkins, and Tommy Link (#1 through #5 respectively). The varsity doubles, at the start of the season, was #1 being Alex Daubert(#1) and Steven Osladil(#3) and #2 being Joel Garrett(#2) and Vance Jenkins(#4). The season closed with the doubles #1 being Alex Daubert and Cullen Rosenbrien(#6) and doubles #2 being Joel Garrett and Steven Osladil.

Counties consisted of the regular doubles teams and the top four players. Vance ended up being replaced by Tommy since Vance couldn't attend. Cullen came, supporting the team as a manager. Singles went well for Joel and Alex, but not quite as well for Tommy and Steven. Tommy was knocked out first round by Kevin Shultis of Delone Catholic. Steven was knocked out first round as well by Adam Hack of York Catholic. Joel and Alex happened to make it Quarter Finals. Alex lost to Mike Rice of Biglerville, Joel losing to Evan Andrews (who went on to win the singles bracket) of York Surburban. Doubles turned out to have the same team take out both of the doubles teams. Joel and Stephen lost first round to Ben Nace and Roberto Ugarte, Alex and Cullen losing to them second round.

At the close of the season, the team said goodbye to the seniors Alex Daubert, Tommy Link, Jake Tracey (#8) and Sam Walton (#7). Even though the team did well this season, they're hoping to do even better next season.

Girls' Soccer: First Team at HHS

By Haley Frederick

17

The 2011 Hawkette's soccer team is the first one in school history. Many students and parents fought long and hard to make this team happen. Petitions and presentations in front of the school board payed off, and we would like to thank everyone who helped. The coaches, Tyler Smith and Dee Scotton, are both alum of Bermudian High School, but happy to be coaching the Hanover girl's team.

The season started off great with the Hawkettes soccer team winning their first game with the first goal being scored by Hannah Garland. The season kept going well and ended with the team having 6 wins, 3 loses, and 1 tie. The team captains were junior Katerina Winhauer and sophomore Destiny Winhauer. Kat was the team's leading scorer with 13 goals this season.

Ask any girls' soccer player for information about summer open gyms if you would like to join the team for next year. Awesome job Hawkettes!
(Sports continued on page 18)

HHS Out & About

Baseball By Pete Yingst

The Hawks' baseball team has a long tradition of success and of being competitive. Under Coach Matt Baker, they've experienced some recent success, although they struggled this season.

The team was only able to manage one victory, however, played some tough teams very closely. The Nighthawks baseball team won a game early in the season against the Spartans of York Tech.

Despite only winning this one game, they played division winner York Catholic very tough on one occasion, dropping the game by only a few runs. They also competed with difficult foes such as Delone and Littlestown.

The baseball team shows major promise for the future, especially because of their youth. Three pitchers that saw major time on the mound were Jared Peterman, Nick Trish, and Brad Irvin, all of whom were freshmen. Another major pitcher was Brandon Etzler, who is just a sophomore. With these players returning for the next couple seasons, the Hawks should definitely return to prominence.

The batting lineup was led by Etzler, sophomore Spenser Durika, and seniors Wes Reichart, Jake Goodfellow, and Harry Shultz. These five hitters led the way on offense, compiling numerous hits and driving in many runs.

The three seniors, Reichart, Goodfellow and Shultz, will be missed greatly on the baseball diamond, and best of luck to the baseball team in their off-season endeavors.

Track & Field By Pete Yingst

Although the Hanover Track & Field team did not compile a great record, they did experience some major individual and team successes. Coached by our very own Mr. Weigle, the boys' track team had some individuals excel in many different events.

Senior Tyler Kiick, in his first season, had well over 100 points on the season, competing in the high jump, triple jump, and 400 meter dash regularly. He even captured a county gold in the high jump with a jump of 6' 1" and set the school record while finishing 4th in the 400 meter dash at the county meet. He also qualified for districts in both of the aforementioned events.

Junior Matt Felton and Seniors John Perdue and Colton Dils had some major success throwing this season as well. Felton won the majority of the meets in shot put and discus, throwing a personal best of 46' 9" in shot put against Delone to capture the victory. He placed in counties and qualified for districts in the shot put, also. Dils and Perdue made a very good tandem in the javelin, getting second at the York Suburban Relays with their combined throws, and qualifying for districts.

(Continued on page 19)

(Continued from page 18)

Junior Steven Shaeffer, among others, also competed well in the pole vault all season, continuing from a successful sophomore year.

The boys finished with three dual meet victories on the season. Good Luck next season to the boys.

The Girls' team, coached by Greg Yiengst, also had a successful season. They won a few dual meets as well as performed well at invitationals and the county meet.

Sophomore Zoie Cleary led the team in points, scoring well over 200 points! She was even able to break the school record in the 2 mile run in her second place performance at the county meet. She will also compete at the district meet.

The 4X800 relay team continued their usual success by winning almost all of the races they were in, as well as qualifying for districts.

Lynne Eisenberg placed twice in the county meet also, doing extremely well in the 800 meter run and the pole vault. Additionally, newcomer Abbey Rhodes placed fifth at the county meet, and broke the school record in the shot put. Tebeh Morris also got some points for the Hawkettes in the sprints.

As evident, the male and female track teams experienced a successful season where individual and team triumph occurred.

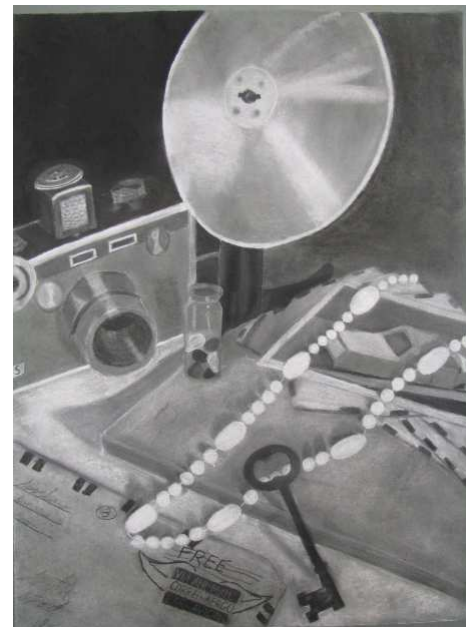

Seniors John Perdue, Tyler Kiick, Colton Dils, James Balestrini, Austin Vacek, Sarah Smith, Tebeh Morris, and Sarah Hammond will be greatly missed.

Lily Tran

Morgan Yealy

Karlee Ginter

Class of 2011 Senior Wills and Testaments

We, the class of 2011, being of sound minds and bodies do hereby make these last wills and testaments:

I, Katelynn Atkins, will to

- Shalyn Warfel, Sammie Marrero, Adrianas McRoy, Alicia Lua-Thiessen: My membership to the Indian tribe swag! And my sweet dance moves. Haha love you guys.

I, James Balestrini, will

- My athletic jersey number 13 for anybody who plays football and does track, so that they can be as lucky as me in my time

I, Victoria Bell, will to

- Keisha Smith: My notes for Government/Economics.
- Laura Maqueda: My TCA position with Mrs. Smith.
- Tawney Dickensheets: To have the best last years of high school and to remember your favorite cousin!
- Mrs. Deb Smith: My time and love for your class! I had a great time! :D

I, David Allen Bollinger, will to

- Nothing really because I got nothin' I can think of. I just hope people will do as well as me.

I, Paul E. Briggs IV, will to

- Hunter Markle- You know what you have to do to be good at something.
- Jake Tracey- Junior Privs
- Maddy Royston- Change your name to "Tom's Girl"
- Matt Frederick- Nothing.

I, Corey Byers, will to

- Tyler Baldwin: My badminton skills.

- Zack Martin: 1 year's worth of Uncrustables.

I, Meredith Brown, will to

- Allison Seibel the ability to know when we need to "Call in the Replacements."

I, Payton Caler, will to

- Steven Schaffer- My screwdriver
- Derek Bankert- My devilishly good looks
- Adrienne Capps- A clown nose, you know why!
- Matt Felton- The ability to get past the line of scrimmage

I, Courtney Carbaugh, will to

- Andy Therit- my hot pink CORDLESS 360 controller :-)
- Jake Tracey- A basketball game
- Underclassmen- Focus, good spirit, and success

I, Jon Dandy, will to

- Dalton Legore an extra hand to carry more trays at lunch
- Matt Frederick the ability to kiss his girlfriend, and Sam's hand in marriage. Love you bud!
- Jordan Zeigler my awkward but funny badminton grunts
- Spenser Durika the ability to win the game.

I, Alex Daubert, will to

- Spenser Durika- The ability to flirt with girls without offending them
- Rachel Kelly- Your own seat in chamber choir and an amazing falsetto to whoever sits next to you
- The gymnastics team- Rides to meets and a coach that isn't expecting
- Seminar Students- The ability to understand the necessity and inspiration behind a three-legged chair

I, Terra Diehl, will to

- Serena and Allison- my base skills so that next year you can have awesome stunts
- The Karstetters- The ability to throw like a Demon
- Marta- The ability to make the Chewbacca sound

I, Kendall Dubs, will

- All of my school notes and papers to Taylor Hahn so she can be prepared for every class in the future.
- All of the upcoming seniors- an amazing senior year.

I, Jaide Finfrock, will to

- Seibel, Sereni, Harmony- The power to create a squad as amazing as ours and my awesome puckered lips gangster dancing face.
- Logan, Lily, Becca- ASCOTS!
- Matthew- The power to survive a year without me, a lock of my luscious fiery red hair. Oh and my love :-)
- Haley- Matt's whip Haha (Love you Matt!)

I, Shannon Fisher, will

- My niceness and kindness to Lakeisha W.
- My good manners in class to Lakeisha W.

I, Jake Goodfellow, will to

- Jake Haring- the ability to not get kicked out of Mr. Garman's office
- Mr. Bauer: Ability to look like Mr. Pewterschmidt, oh wait you already do
- Brady Goodfellow: My awesomeness and badminton skills

I, Jacquelyn Gourley, will to

- The underclassmen- Remember the dress code, and stop wearing short skirts. It's school, not the club.
- I will the power to the underclassmen for their determination to stay strong no matter what happens in their personal lives. I hope they stay in school.

I, Sarah Hammond, will to

- The girl's 4x8 team- The lucky baton from Littlestown & a ticket to compete in Galaxies for the next 2-3 years :-)
- Zack Terrazes- The voice of an angel...oh, wait...(haha!)
- Christian Torres & Wyatt Batoha- An unlimited amount of keys to the doors of creativity that I know lie within your minds!
- The Field Hockey Team- Enough drive and companionship to help lead you through a blazing hockey season.
- To whom it may concern- The spunk and drive to help keep this school on their feet, to carry on the spirit, and...my closet.

I, Billy Hill, will to

- All future seniors with senior privs to eat at Epex Soft Pretzel for lunch

I, Tyler Kiick, will to

- Jordan Banks- sick whiteboy hops
- Maddy Hart- My Jeep
- Linsey, Zoie, Lynne- Some points so it doesn't look like a blowout

I, Jessica Leese, will to

- Bailey Hockensmith- Stay strong and make sure you get all of your work done before it's too late.
- Diamond Sorrells- I love you, girl. Stay strong haha
- Serena Taggart- Don't take any crap!
- Laura Karstetter- REMEMBER MY NAME!!!!

I, Tommy Link, will to

- Lily Tran: The ability to match my clothes more often and maybe the ability to grow a few more inches.

- Georgie DeCosmo: The ability to beat my score on snake.
- Cullen Rosenbrien, Tyler Hahn: My awesome try hard band skills!!! Oh yeah..
- Ben Krentler: A father's love.

I, Trevor Little, will to

- Justice Forbes: My racing ability.
- Emily Weaver: A new car with no brakes.
- Zack Martin: My fishing ability.
- Ian Brown: My wrestling.

I, Casey Louthian, will to

- Mrs. Frank- A huge thank you for making my four years of high school so great. I couldn't have asked for a better person to work with; the paper is one of my best HHS memories
- Matt Kline, Christian Torres and the future O&B staff- my love of writing and endless patience so you all may continue to produce a rockin' newspaper no matter what technical difficulties may arise. :-)
- Alex Gilbert- best-friendly love, all of the weird stories you tell my on an almost-daily basis, signed copies of every book I ever publish, as well as a light bulb, a roll of Scotch tape, and a pack of Sour Patch Kids. Ha ha. I love ya bro, and I'll miss our lunches together
- Dana Roub- signed copies of every book I ever publish, and a promise that you'll be in every single dedication. :-)
Love you, girl!

I, Andrew Merrel, will to

- Spenser Durika- The ability to do a front handspring without spraining your ankle
- The keys to Greased Lightning

I, Annie Pope, will to

- Maxwell Kosco- My hugs :-)

I, Emily Rorrer, will

- My right-hook upper cut to Rachel Turchich because she might need it one day.

I, Dana Roub, will to

- Bradi Hill- The ability to put up with Mr. Koishal's crazy songs "I gotta pea."
- Derek Bankert- The ability to look on the bright side of things.
- Adrienne Capps- My hair ties, I owe you at least 100 of them.

I, Meghan Royston, will to

- Saul and Chooch- to keep the "Dream Team" alive!
- Mrs. Kennedy- to keep the patience when immature girls strike
- Mr. Bauer- to keep our secret through thick and thin
- Mrs. Gomulka- organization, and to keep the student council storage room clean

I, Mark Schafer, will

- My whole persona to Justice Forbes, that big ol' doofy who-ha

I, Bryan Senecal, will to

- Alex Thoman- My ability to build muscle
- Mr. Wyrick- The ability to put up with physics students next year
- Shalyn Warfel- The ability to put up with me next year
- Mr. Roberts- To be the best man at my wedding

I, Harry Shultz, will to

- Charlie Sunday and Taylor Johnson- The ability to try really hard in gym class, and the ability to create better gamertags.
- Mrs. Motter- My purple shoes and a new helper that can only try to work as hard as I do
- Courtney Cleary- My wonderful abilities to try really hard on every assignment, and someone

- 22 new to walk the hallways with and be mad at them for being late. Also, the strength to go a whole school year without seeing my beautiful face.
- Dalton Wade- Ankles.

I, Sarah Smith, will to

- Mr. Bauer “Buttercup”- my devilishly good looks and the ability to deal with amazing students like me
- Caleb Gerlach- the ability to carry on even though the Harry Potter movies are over and Dobby is dead (I know, it’s still sad) :- ( And lots of Icy Hot !
- The Junior Class- the power to grow up and not start drama with everyone who is breathing (you will be seniors, please, grow up)
- Mr. Lehman- An unlimited supply of sticky notes so future students can cover your room/office with them

I, Tori Spangler, will to

- Allison Seibel & Serena Taggart: my ability to yell and make the cheer team quiet
- Saul Manjarrez: All of my coolness :-)

I, Davion Steele, will to

- Justice Forbes- Rock on

I, Loganne Storm, will to

- Nathan Arndt- The ability to work backstage and be on stage. To help make the theater program grow.
- Emiley Laughman- The ability to keep the music department strong.

I, Mandi Strausbaugh, will to

- The Field Hockey Team- my enthusiasm and love... win some games!
- Lexi Herrick- The white fuzzy rap book
- Ani Staub- The ability to make random obnoxious noises whenever you feel it is necessary

I, Wyatt Trump, will to

- Tony Aguilar- The ability to not steal all of the clothes he owns.
- Matt Frederick- My ability to play soccer and be sexy.
- Mark Hoffman- My mad ability to recover from knee surgery.
- Mr. Bauer- The ability to maintain and up-keep his moustache.

I, Neil Unger, will to

- Cameron Shearer: My driver’s license.
- Cassandra Balek: My heart.
- Ryan Brocato: All my knowledge, and a Dr. Pepper.
- All upcoming freshmen: Good luck and if you put your mind to work, you can do anything.

I, Austin Vacek, will to

- Jake Haring- ORANGE MEN-ACE
- Matt Frederick- The ability to make a decision for himself.
- Spenser Durika- Absolutely nothing.

I, Sam Walton, will to

- Jake Haring- The ability to avoid getting in trouble.
- Tyler Hahn & Spenser Durika- My school spirit and witty comments for basketball games
- Shelby Barnes, Ani Staub, and all the girls who make me neigh- My amazing neighing ability and passion for horses.
- Zack Miller- The ability to walk on land.
- Matt Frederick- My undying love and the hope that we will make it to Haiti one day.

I, Ashlee Yealy, will to

- Mr. Bauer- Ability to find someone else who will annoy you in class
- Field Hockey team- Ability to get through a whole season without stitches... examples... Carly, Dana, Me, Bradi...
- Girls Basketball- Ability to get past the first round of Districts
- Madame Frank and French students- Someone else to remind you every Friday “Merci à Dieu c’est Vendredi!”

I, Brooke Yingling, will to

- The Girls Basketball team- the ability to stay injury free, to keep a coach for more than one year, and to always remember the “hotdog” story.

- Mr. Bauer- The ability to keep Princess under control and an unlimited supply of cat food from Weis
- Mackenzie Naill- The power to find someone else to drive you around and to know where you are going to, and the ability to go out to eat after basketball games. Bradi Hill- an unlimited supply of Rita’s coupons

I, Pete Yingst, will to

- Mr. Bauer- To man up and retire
- Jake “The Snake” Haring- All the food in Lexi’s locker and the ability to do the “Jake Walk” whenever you please
- Zoie Cleary and Lynne Eisenberg- All the punches I owe you guys. And for Zoie, a nice new set of bleachers and a mud pie.
- Lexi Herrick- Someone else’s eye-boogers to pick, someone else to make fun of pretzels from Epex, a hallway buddy, and all the strength and motivation to have a great senior year

I, Cris Zink, will to

- Zac Terrazes- Continued success in your theatrical future.
- Brian Taylor- My O’s jacket
- Kendra Swartz- My continued friendship to you and your sisters.

Class of 2011 Intentions

23

Kimberle Arndt: Apprenticeship with Kinsey Education Center

Katelynn Atkins: Go to York Vo Tech for my LPN then go to York College or HACC for my RN. Continue working as a CNA while I'm going through school.

James Balestrini: I intend to follow my parents path by going into the Coast Guard. After, I plan to follow my dreams of being a cop.

Victoria Bell: After high school I'm going to college for nursing but I'm not too sure where I want to go yet!

David Allen Bollinger: Go to YTI and maybe work for a company that deals with computer technology. Maybe make a family of my own. Also if I do have kids, I want them to do what I never got to do.

Paul E. Briggs IV: Attend York College for business. Live happy by a beach.

Corey Byers: Thaddeus Stevens for graphic communications.

Meredith Brown: I will be attending the University of Tampa majoring in marketing with a dual minor in French and dance. And I hope that one day all of my dreams will come true.

Payton Caler: Attend The University of Akron for sports management and later get into ticket sales. If that doesn't work out for me, I'm just going to become a philanthropist for women, children, just everyone basically.

Courtney Carbaugh: Attend Empire Beauty School to become a cosmetologist. Then when I graduate beauty school, work at a salon. While working in a salon, do under-the-table haircuts and save my money to one day own and run my own beauty shop.

Jon Dandy: Going to Shippensburg to major in psychology and minor in criminal justice, hope to become a school psychologist or counsel juvenile delinquents. I also hope to own many leather bound books and have my apartment smell of rich mahogany.

Alex Daubert: Be cast as the mother in the musical Hairspray

Terra Diehl: Attend York College to study psychology

Kendall Dubs: After High School, I plan to go to Elizabethtown for early childhood education and to eventually become a kindergarten teacher.

Jaide Finfrock: Attend York College for communications, become a kick-butt radio DJ with a kick-butt radio show. Become a Broadway star with Lily Tran and eventually be movie stars.

Shannon Fisher: I plan on going to HACC for 2 years, and then I plan on going to Miami University for 4 years. I plan on marrying my boyfriend Eric when I am 22.

Derek Giganti: Going to ITT or YTI

Jake Goodfellow: Attend Shippensburg University for exercise science then physical therapy.

Jacquelyn Gourley: After high school, I plan on going to West Virginia University with my daughter Caitlin and my boyfriend Kevin. I plan on becoming an RN and getting my Bachelor's in Science.

Sarah Hammond: Attend Slippery Rock University in the fall for a degree in communications/public relations.

Billy Hill: Attending Shippensburg University and majoring in criminal justice.

Tyler Kiick: Go to Penn State, then become a benevolent dictator on a small island nation that eventually brings peace and prosperity to the entire world

Jessica Leese: Moving to North Carolina and going to college for RN or ultrasound tech.

Tommy Link: I am going to York College for music and business. I plan on continuing the family business or pursuing a career with music. Overall I hope my life is filled with happiness and all the Taco Bell I can eat.

Trevor Little: College dur.

Casey Louthian: I will be attending Indiana University of Pennsylvania to major in English— writing studies, and I hope to one day become a New York Times bestselling author.

Andrew Merrel: I plan on going to Messiah

College to major in sports management.

Annie Pope: Capitol College (Laurel, MD) to major in computer engineering with my full-ride covering tuition, and room and board.

Emily Rorrer: My intentions after high school are to go to college to become a nurse. I plan to work my way up in the medical field and get my master's degree as an RN. After schooling, I plan to get a job and work in a hospital.

Dana Roub: To attend HACC Gettysburg for gen. ed. And transfer to York College to major in English and minor in elementary education.

Meghan Royston: Going for massage therapy and occupational therapy

Mark Schafer: Going to school for the best four years of my life.

Bryan Senecal: First, graduate next year, then probably the military.

Cody Shoemaker: To attend Saginaw Valley State University for a Bachelor's degree in business

Harry Shultz: I intend to attend Hood College for four years. I hope to figure out my major by the end of my freshman year. I plan to play golf and basketball for the Blazers.

Sarah Smith: To run for Vice President with Donald Trump, then when he dies I will become President, then dictator, then I'll adopt Mr. Bauer's cat, Princess, who will be my right-hand go-to person. Then I will slowly take over the world with Princess by my side. I'll go to HACC to be an English major, and eventually transfer to York College.

Tori Spangler: Attend York College to major in secondary education and mathematics and minor in Spanish.

Davion Steele: Gettysburg HACC

Loganne Storm: I will be attending York College of PA to dual major in theater and business.

Mandi Strausbaugh: Indiana University of Pennsylvania

Wyatt Trump: Study at Ship, make bank and

(Continued on page 24)

(Continued from page 23)
and cash some checks.

Neil Unger: I plan on staying at Lowe's and maybe get trained to be a professional wrestler. And eventually own a better car.

Austin Vacek: Attend Millersville University and major in earth sciences, then devise a way to stop 2012 from happening.

Sam Walton: I'm going to be a cop...or a horse trainer and enthusiast. I haven't decided yet.

Ashlee Yealy: Wilson College to major in history.

Brooke Yingling: To attend California University of Pennsylvania to study athletic training and physical therapy

Pete Yingst: Attend Dickinson College where I plan to play basketball and become a successful male escort.

Cris Zink: Attending Millersville University.

Mr. Wyrick's Physics students test out their Rube Goldberg machines on the evening of Wednesday, May 11, 2011

Mission Possible 2011

25

On Friday, April 29th, 2011, billions of people around the world tuned in to watch the newest chapter of the royal fairytale unfold. Prince William Arthur Phillip Louis and his girlfriend of several years, Catherine Elizabeth Middleton- better known as simply "Kate," were wed at eleven o'clock in the morning at Westminster Abbey in London, England- the same venue where they had lied William's mother Princess Diana to rest fourteen years earlier; Prince William's way of keeping his mother close to it all.

The bride-to-be arrived in style. The dress, designed by English designer Sarah Burton was complete with lace sleeves with a plunging neckline and full veil.

The veil was held in place by a Cartier Scroll Tiara, made in 1936 and lent to Kate by the Queen. For the customary bridal themes of "Something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue," Middleton's gown had traditional lace appointments (the "old"), diamond earrings given to her by her parents (the "new"), the Queen's tiara (the "borrowed"), and a ribbon sewn into the bodice (the "blue"). The shoes were also from Alexander McQueen and had a lace pattern matching the dress with appliqués made by the Royal School of Needlework.

"Wait until you see her," Prince Harry, William's brother and best man, remarked as he smiled and watched Kate make her way down the aisle. "What a cutie."

The Royal Wedding

By Casey Louthian

It is customary for the groom to be the very last person to see the bride, so William was not permitted to turn around to watch Kate make her way down the aisle.

Kate's bouquet contained Myrtle, Lily of the Valley, Sweet William and Hyacinth.

Prince William looked just as great for the occasion; fully dressed in his military uniform. William could have chosen to wear the uniform of any of the junior officer ranks. However, as he had been appointed colonel of the Irish Guards on the tenth February 2011, he instead chose to wear the full dress uniform of that regiment.

The order of service chosen by the bridal couple was the Series One form which is virtually identical with that of the 1928 Prayer Book.

The Dean of Westminster, John Hall, officiated for most of the service, with Rowan Williams, the Archbishop of Canterbury, celebrating the wedding itself; Richard Chartres, the Bishop of London, preached the sermon.

It has long been traditional for the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Church of England's most senior bishop, to officiate at the weddings of England's monarchs and future monarchs. Chartres is a close friend of the Prince of Wales and confirmed both Prince William and Kate Middleton.

The service commenced with the procession of the Queen, Prince Philip, and the clergy. Shortly after, Kate Middleton arrived with the party of matron of honor and junior attendants. As the choir sang an anthem by Sir Hubert Parry, the bride made her three-and-a-half minute procession through the nave and quire on her father's arm, to meet Prince William. The service proceeded with the formal service and congregational singing of three well known hymns, fanfares, anthems, organ and orchestral music.

In the marriage vows, the couple promised to "love, comfort, honor and keep" each other. This was sealed by the exchange of a single ring. The ring is made from Welsh gold and was created by the royal warrant holder Wartski, a company with roots in Bangor, Gwynedd, and north Wales. Since 1923, it has been a tradition in the royal family to use Welsh gold for the wedding ring of the bride. Prince William chose not to receive a wedding ring at the ceremony.

The lesson, read by the bride's brother, James Middleton, was from the New Testament's Epistle to the Romans and is an exhortation to live a righteous and peaceful life. The sermon, preached by the Bishop of London, commenced with a quotation from Catherine of Siena whose feast day it was. The bishop urged the couple to live selflessly, each remembering the needs of each other and seeking to transform each other by love rather than seeking to reform. He ended the sermon with a prayer composed by the couple themselves:

"God our Father, we thank you for our families; for the love that we share and for the joy of our marriage. In the busyness of each day keep our eyes fixed on what is real and important in life and help us to be generous with our time and love and energy. Strengthened by our union help us to serve and comfort those who suffer. We ask this in the Spirit of Jesus Christ. Amen."

On the morning of the wedding, William became the Duke of Cambridge, Earl of Strathearn and Baron Carrickfergus, with Kate becoming Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cambridge after the wedding.) The titles also have symbolic meanings—Strathearn is close to St Andrews, Fife, in Scotland, where the couple met as students, and Carrickfergus in Northern Ireland. Combined with his existing link with Wales and his becoming Duke of Cambridge in England, William's collective titles link him to each of the four countries in the UK.

The Queen hosted a lunchtime reception at Buckingham Palace, starting after the arrival of the carriage with the married couple. It was a private gathering for guests drawn from the congregation who represent the couple's official and private lives.

The wedding cake had a strong British floral theme, and was an eight-tiered traditional fruit cake decorated with cream and white icing and 900 sugar paste flowers. The cake designer Fiona Cairns was chosen in February 2011 to create the wedding cake. Additionally, McVitie's created a groom's cake from chocolate biscuit for the reception at Buckingham Palace. The chocolate biscuit cake was made from a Royal Family recipe and was specially requested by Prince William.

After the reception, William drove his new bride out of the palace for the short distance to Clarence House, his official London residence. The car, a blue Aston Martin DB6 Volante, had been decorated in the customary 'newly wed' style by the best man and friends;

the license plate read "JUSTWED"

The Prince had changed into a Blues and Royals Captain's frock coat also designed by Kashket; his wife was still wearing her wedding dress. In the evening, the Prince of Wales gave a private dinner, followed by dancing, at Buckingham Palace for the couple and their close friends and family.

The two are set to honeymoon for two weeks. One of which will be spent in the country of Jordan, touring some of the most famous sites—such as the ancient city of Petra and the Wadi Rum desert Valley. The other week may be what is known as a "stay-cation" and will possibly be on one of the royal estates, perhaps Balmoral in Scotland.

Opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not reflect the position of The Orange and Black. The Orange and Black is an open forum for the students and staff of HHS. We welcome all appropriate viewpoints.

It really takes a village to make a school newspaper happen! We want to thank the following people for helping to get this publication out:

- Dave McFarland and Amy of Hanover Studio of Photography & Mrs. Caler for their great pics
- Our tech department for always coming to our rescue for technological difficulties
- Our HHS secretarial staff for answering questions, locating people, getting lists, info., etc. to us
- The teachers who gave us ideas, artwork, articles, interviews & encouragement
- The many students & their families for getting your pictures to us or taking pictures for us
- The students who wrote for us this year and gave their time in one way or another THANK YOU!!!!!!

28 Sophomores Read Record 927 Books!

Are you looking for a good book to read this summer? Don't we all like to relax on the back porch with a book in hand or stay up late on a summer night engrossed in a good story? Mrs. Smith's tenth grade students might be the ones to ask for summer book recommendations. As part of a year-long reading challenge, these 41 students read a record 927 books. Students created a link chain by adding a link for each book they read over the course of the school year. They committed to in-class reading time along with reading twenty minutes a night outside of school. Listed below are some of the students' favorite books. Give one (or more) a try!

The Hunger Games Trilogy
If I Stay (and the newly released sequel Where She Went)
Memoirs of a Teenage Amnesiac
The Maze Runner
The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian
The Lightning Thief (five books total in this series)
Looking for Alaska
Elsewhere
Al Capone Does My Shirts (and the sequel Al Capone Shines My Shoes)
I Am The Messenger
Shiver (and the sequel Linger)

---

Visit Guthrie Memorial Library This Summer!

There is a lot happening for teens this summer at Guthrie Memorial Library, Hanover's public library. With this in mind, considering stopping by with some friends and taking part in one or more of the activities listed below.

- Book Talks. The Middy Michael 2011 Summer Books Talk Series is underway. Students receive a free book and then get to meet the author for a book talk. (Yes, the author is really right here in Hanover!) Red Kayak by Priscilla Cummings is scheduled for Wednesday, June 22, The Middle of Somewhere by J.B. Cheaney is set for Thursday, July 14, and Boneshaker by Kate Milford is Monday, August 15. All book talks start at 10:00 a.m. Stop by the library to pick up your book starting June 1st.

- Teen Open Mic Night. Show off your talent at the library's Open Mic Night on Thursday, May 26 from 7-9 p.m. in the Hormel Reading Room. If you don't want to perform just go, watch, and enjoy performances by local teens.
- NEW Teen Advisory Group. The library is looking for your input. Consider giving back to your community by being a part of the Teen Advisory Group at the library. You will help to plan upcoming events and assist in the young adult book collection development. The meeting is Wednesday, May 25 from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the teen study area. Hope to see you there!

Creative Writing Group for Teens. Are you looking for feedback on your writing? How about a venue to share your writing with others? Consider being a part of the creative writing group for teens. This group meets every other Thursday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the teen section of the library. Upcoming dates are Thursdays, May 19th June 2nd. Visit their blog at <http://gmlroundtablewriters.blogspot.com>.

This spring, the ESL students were given the assignment to write a poem about their feelings using a metaphor:

- ❄️ • I am the snow; soft but dangerous.
- 🌹 • My sad days without you are a rose in the shade without sunlight.
- 🌊 • My anger is a strong wave destroying everything in its path.
- ☀️ • My happiness is the blossoming morning just waiting for the sun to shine.
- 🌙 • Everything was going so well like the sun in the summer, but now I'm crying in a winter's lonely night where everything is cold and that sun has disappeared from my life taking all of that happiness with him.
- 😊 • My happiness is the sun that makes people play because it's so beautiful outside.
- 👮 • I'm the soldier that acts manly and will give my life for my people.

---

Hanover Students Take Home Prizes in Local Poetry Contest

Many students here at HHS know Kate Brady, Hanover's poet laureate. She has visited our school and has presented poetry workshop in several English class this school year and last year. In honor of National Poetry Month, Miss Brady recently held her second annual poetry contest. The competition was open to high school students from area schools. Three Hanover High School students were award winners in this poetry contest. Christian Torres won second place for his poem titled "Angels in the Night." Fourth Place went to Brianna Bryson for her poem "Insomniac's Lullaby," and Alex Daubert was awarded fifth place for his poem "Level Up." Congratulations to these inspiring poets whose verse will be featured in Dimensions 2011. Christian's poem "Angels in the Night" is featured below.

Angels in the Night

Once in pitched darkness
Our roar was genesis.
Batting our feathered wings.
As heaven's fireworks,
We shine, even through twilight.
-Christian Torres

T
A
L
E
N
T

S
H
O
W

2
0
1
1

HANOVER Studio of Photography

22 North Oxford Avenue
McSherrystown, PA 17344
(717) 637-1020

Visit our Senior Portrait website:
www.hanoverstudio.com

Our New Sports website:
www.hanoverstudio.smugmug.com

From left to right, back row: Zack Miller, Charlie Sunday, Steven Vogel, Mrs. Frank (Advisor), Pete Yingst, Lexi Herrick, Christian Torres, Elizabeth Balestrini, Candace Menges, Casey Louthian (Editor in Chief), Matt Kline (Co-Editor), Cody Miller, Paige Parks, Haley Kopp, Meghan Royston, Annette Giannini.

Best Wishes and Good Luck to The Class of 2011! Have a Safe and Relaxing Summer!

~ The Orange & Black Staff

